ABDUL'S COSTLY SLEEP.

Big Price For Slumber That Is Paid by Turkey's Sultan.

Sleep that costs $300 a night seems pretty expensive, but that is what the sultan of Turkey, who is right in the public eye at the present time, is now paying for the privilege of more or less tranquil repose, writes the Constantinople correspondent of the Washington Post. The money is received by the members of the special military staff which guards Abdul Hamid's bedroom and which consists of two generals, a colonel, a major, a captain and several soldiers. For their night's work each of the two generals gets 50 Turkish pounds, or about $235; the colonel 40, the major 35, the captain 30 and each soldier 1, the entire amount aggregating slightly over $900 in American money. The officers and men get their fee every morning immediately they have been relieved and don't have to wait for it like some pretty big nations to whom Abdul Hamid owes money.

This expensive night guard of the sultan has been maintained by him only since the recent assassination of the royal couple of Serbia. Of course the timorous ruler of Turkey always has been particularly well guarded at night, but the murders at Belgrade scared Abdul Hamid almost out of his wits, and he immediately determined that he would surround his bedchamber with the most vigilant men who could be secured and make it to their interest to protect him. The command of the special night guard is intrusted to eight of the sultan's most faithful generals, two of whom are on duty every night. Owing chiefly to this and other precautions that the ruler has adopted recently it is estimated that the weekly expense of running Yildiz kiosk is over $80,000.

Chinese Coins as Trimmings. Chinese and Japanese ideas are being incorporated in woman's dress to a remarkable degree, says the New York Press. A girl recently wore a kimono shaped coat in Fifth avenue. The hat was of robin's egg blue broadcloth. The collar and front of the coat were trimmed with Chinese embroidery in peacock blue. It was a savage dragon design. But most remarkable of all were the Chinese coins that were sewed on the coat as an additional trimming at the neck. These coins also formed bangles. It was a striking effect, but not altogether in good taste.

Pigs in Persia.

A pig is usually kept in every stable in Persia, as it is thought the presence of the porker is beneficial to the health of the horses.

Saved His Ear.

During an affray among tramps in a Kiev lodging house one of them had his ear cut off. He went to the hospital, taking with him the severed ear, which the doctor immediately sewed on again.

There was a very good attendance at the Grange meeting last evening and a good programme was carried out.

While Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nye and Mr. and Mrs. Wood of East Barre were returning from the fair last evening when near M. A. Smith's some one tried carelessly to pass and ran into the rear wheel of Mr. Nye's buggy which was badly damaged. Fortunately no one was hurt.

The Rebecca Lodge will give a 10 cent baked bean supper Saturday night, beginning at 5 p. m., consisting of baked beans, brown bread, pies, cakes, etc. A good supper is guaranteed for the small sum of 10 cents. In the evening there will be music for promenading and various games so all may have a good time. Admission in evening 15c.

Letter To E. W. Bishop.

Barre, Vt.
Dear Sir: What's the penalty for making or selling short-measure paint in your state?

And does it make any difference, if three-fourths of the paint is short-measure?

Is seven pints a full-gallon or a fool-gallon?

What's the penalty for making or selling whitewash for paint?

Is whitewash paint, if mixed with a little paint and labeled "Pure Mixed Paint," or something like that?

But we don't intend to go into the business. We make Devco lead-and-zinc full-measure and true.

Yours truly,

F. W. Devco & Co.

P. S.—Reynolds & Son sell our paint.

A Sensible Prohibition.

The throwing of rice has been prohibited on the steps and in the cars at the local stations. Several enthusiasts who were endeavoring to shower a newly married couple today at one of the local stations were stopped at the car steps and told they must not enter the car with the rice or throw any on the steps. On many railroads rice is strictly forbidden as it acts like shot on the floor endangering passengers.—Montpelier Argus.
